TUESDAY. .....NOVEMBER 15, 1892

A GOOD WORKER.

Geo. S. Nixon, Chairman of the State Central Committee of the Silver party, Sunday evening departed from the scene of his late campaign labors to his home in Winnemucca. Mr. Nixon was one of the originators of the Silver League movement in this State, and to his earnest and enthusiastic work as much as to any other cause is due the unprecedented success of the Silver party at the polls on election day. Mr. Nixon joined the "ghost dance," so called, not as a disappointed office seeker, but as one who had received at the hands of the party renounced by him every favor that he had ever sought from it. He ceased to be a Republican because he had become convinced that the Republican party was against the free coinage of silver; that while its slogan was ostensibly "protection to American industries" it was every day despoiling the people of Nevada more and more of their only developed industry, silver mining, at the behest of Wall street's usurers, and that the only way to secure free coinage and the prosperity of Nevada was to fight the Republican and Democratic parties instead of aiding and abetting them in their course against us. He was sent as a delegate to the Omaha Convention of the People's party, and was instrumental in securing a free coinage plank in the platform adopted at that place. Returning home, he assisted in perfecting the organization of the Silver party of Nevada. He became Chairman of the State Central Committee and conducted the campaign with marked ability.

DESERVE THE HIGH HONOR.

Independent newspapers and individuals throughout the country commend the manly stand taken by Stewart and Newlands in Nevada in the recent campaign. The San Francisco Report says on the subject:

Stewart and Newlands have been elected to represent Nevada at Washington, and deserve the high honor. They rose superior to party domination and disregarded party lines in the interest of their State. They stood upon the platform of the People's party, because that party is the party of silver, and Nevada is of the opinion that its fate depends upon the price of silver. In other words, the Nevadans believed that charity begins at home, and that a man's first duty is to his own home. The position taken by Messrs. Stewart and Newlands was similar to the California candidates for office who were anti monopolists first and Democrats and Republicans afterward, who believed that it was their duty to save their own State first and lend their assistance to straightening out the affairs of the nation afterward—a sound and sensible policy to pursue at all times and firm ground to stand upon. Stewart and Newlands will occupy a singularly independent position in Washington and will wield great influence there, the more so because Stewart is a man of force, ability and experience, and Newlands a young man of great talent and high ambition

THE COMPETING ROAD

The result of the election in this State has had an enormously satisfactory effect upon the San Francisco & Great Salt Lake Railroad enterprise.

Capitalists who had hesitated to interest themselves in the competing road, fearing that the political condition in this State would operate to embarrass it, are now coming enthusiastically to the front.

It has always been regarded as an excellent business proposition should it receive fair play to begin with, and now that that is assured and there is no fear that the Legislature will be used against it, it is booming.

This is an answer to hundreds of letters the Report has recently received as to the apparently quiescent condition of the company. It was awaiting the election, and the election has turned out exactly as it wished. It will go ahead now. —San Francisco Report.

Russell Harrison, the President's son, went into the newspaper business at Helena, Montana. It was predicted that by reason of his connection with the "powers that were" that his newspaper would be a great success. Now it has been attached by the Sheriff for liabilities aggregating about $125,000, and Prince Russ has learned by sad experience that unless a newspaper reflects public opinion and is in line with the people it requires a long purse to pay its expenses.

More Trusts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—It is officially stated that negotiations are pending for the consolidation of the linseed oil interests of the United States. The plan of consolidation includes the National Lead & Linseed Oil Companies, as well as other outside concerns representing in all about 85 per cent of the industry.

SEN. STEWART INTERVIEWED

For Free Coinage Before All Other Considerations.

TO LOWER THE WORLD'S RECORD

Death of Lillian Emerson—Another Big Combine—Peck and Rogers Discharged.

Senator Stewart on the Tariff.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Senator Stewart of Nevada, who is in this city, was asked by a reporter how he would stand on tariff reform in the United States Senate. "The tariff," said the Senator, "is a matter of small consequence compared with the financial question. I'm for free silver, and as to tariff I stand where Lincoln did when he wrote that if union could be preserved without destroying slavery he was for preserving union that way, but if union could not be saved without the abolition of slavery then he was an abolitionist."

"But suppose the tariff reform proposition comes up independently altogether of silver how will you vote?"

"On the merits of the proposition," replied the Senator.

"But for or against protection?"

"Are you aware," inquired the Senator impressively, "that we have only half as much coin in reserve to day as we had eighteen years ago? Then we possessed $7,500,000,000 now we have but $3,700,000,000. All gold banks have discarded silver as a basis and silver is reduced to the position of credit money. Everybody ought to know that the business of the world must bear some relation to credit and reserve and here we see it standing like a pyramid up ended, the apex resting on that little pedestal of gold. What is the consequence? Things keep going from bad to worse; prices have fallen 40 per cent in eighteen years and are still on the down grade. Every man who is not a lender wakes up each day poorer than he was when he went to bed."

"But what is your attitude on the tariff?"

"Tariff legislation, even if wholesome in itself," replied Senator Stewart promptly, "is not adequate to relieve the State of the things I have described. Until this silver question is settled, and it never will be until it is settled right, no party can remain in power more than four years. Each will give the people wrong explanations of what ails them and when it is afforded the opportunity to try its cure it will be found to be useless. Until the country shall have a plentiful supply of money things cannot mend."

"Will you vote to remove the McKinley duties?"

"Sir," said the Senator, "I shall be a high tariff man, or low tariff man, or free trade man according as my position may affect silver All other questions sink into insignificance beside the money question. I shall use my vote under all circumstances toward securing free coinage."

"That is to say you are as to the tariff strictly on the fence?"

"Well," answered Mr. Stewart, "I'd hardly like to put it that way, but," he added, "on the fence is good American language after all, and expresses my opinion exactly. I'm for silver, first, last and all the time. You understand?"

"And mean to log roll for it?"

"Log roll is an offensive phrase but it fits the situation."

"Now, I'll tell you all you or the public want to know about the necessity for the free coinage of silver, but as to all other questions, I prefer to remain uncommitted. I should deprive myself of the advantage as a friend of silver of being—er—"

"On the fence?"

"Precisely."

North Dakota Returns.

BISMARCK, (N. D.), Nov. 14.—From reports now in and a careful estimate upon others it is evident the entire Republican ticket is snowed under, with the exception of one Congressman and the Secretary of State.

The Annual Shoot.

A large crowd was at the Fair grounds Sunday to witness the annual record shoot of Company C., N. N. G. A calmer day could not have possibly been selected, for there was hardly a breath of air stirring, although the atmosphere was rather cool.

Dr. E. C. Phelps, who has always been looked upon as one of the winners, tied with Sam Wiley for first prize, each making 40 out of a possible 50. In the shoot off, the Dr. made 43 while Sam made 38, and the former was declared the winner of the first prize, and the latter the winner of the second. Chas Nash held third place for some little time with a score of 38, but Andy Tillman came to the front, being the third to the last to shoot, and scored 39, and took third prize. Gus Koppe was awarded the Company's medal for having made the best average score during the year. The range was 200 yards.

Dr. Phelps being the winner of the first prize, had his choice of the trophies hung up, and selected the elegant gold Howard watch and the gold chain offered by Senator Stewart, which left the $125 shot gun put up by Hon. F. G. Newlands, as second prize, and George Alt's silver tilter as third,

The boys wish to thank the above named gentlemen for their thoughtfulness.

Telling the Truth.

It's common saying that newspapers lie, but when an editor writes a thing and puts his name to it you may be sure that he is telling the turth. Read this: "We have never before said one word in favor of any patent medicine advertisement in our columns, but having given Simmons Liver Regulator a fair trial, we do not hesitate to say, that for Dyspepsia and general debility it cannot be excelled."—Fred M. Childs, editor "News," Kenton, Ohio.

Deserves Attention.

If you have money to invest in Reno real estate, either in large or small amounts, the Reno Real Estate and Investment Company offers most particular inducements to you. By investing in its shares of stock you participate in its investments which are governed by its able and experienced Board of Trustees, consisting of Mr. C. T. Bender, Mr. Sol Levy, Mr. C. C. Powning, Mr. Geo. F. Turrittin and Mr. A. G. Fletcher. The principle object of the company is to purchase and improve centrally located business property in the city of Reno. Everyone is of one mind as to the desirability of such investments.

The company is incorporated with a capital of $100,000, divided into 20,000 shares of the par value of five dollars each, and from its already large list of share holders there is every reason to believe that it is destined to become one of the most flourishing companies in the State. Of its 20,000 shares there have been 12,000 sold since August 1st.

Its shares are sold upon the monthly installment plan of ten cents per share, installments to range over a period of fifty months. In this way persons of moderate means are enabled to combine and participate in investments that usually only fall to the lot of the fortunate capitalist. Mr F. M. Lee, the Secretary of the company, will be pleased to furnish any desired information.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating Sick Headache Heartburn Sour Stomach

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." SILVER MEN JUBILANT.

The Victors Celeberate in Carson—Grand Torchlight Procession.

HON. F. G. NEWLANDS' SPEECH.

Storey, Washoe, Lyon and Ormsby Delegations in Line—Ghost Dances in the Procession—Cheers for Weaver, Stewart and Newlands Resound Through the Capital.

A portion of the following report of the Silver men's jubilation at Carson is taken from Sunday's Appeal.

No such political demonstration as that of last evening was ever witnessed in this city.

Storey, Lyor, Washoe and Douglas joined Ormsby in a demonstration that was commensurate with the great victory of Tuesday last.

When the Virginia train arrived, the Comstock and Dayton silver men, headed by a band, carried a big broom, indicative of the clean sweep made.

A few minutes later Washoe rolled in, and there was a mingling of torches, and the inspiring music of three bands, as cheer after cheer rent the air.

The hills about Carson were blazing with big bonfires and as the train reached the curve this side of the tunnel it was greeted by a sagebrush bonfire at the Holstein ranch and the glare of rockets from the tank tower. There was also a display of fireworks from the roof of the Appeal office, and red fire was kept burning during the parade.

The procession formed in the following order:

LINE OF MARCH.

Grand Marshal,
Ghost Dancers,
Carson Band,
Ormsby County Candidates.
Empire boat with fireworks,
Dayton Band,
Lyon County Silver Men.
Reno Band,
Washoe Silver Men,
Comstock Silver Men,
Ormsby County Silver Men,

A feature of the parade was the big Empire boat decorated with bunting, from which the fireworks were displayed.

The line was full of transparancies. The reporter caught the following:

"Weaver, Stewart and Newlands, the Silver Champions."
"Nevada is True to Her Interests."
"Take Partners for the Ghost Dance."
"Who Sunk the Wall Street Barrel?"
"Have You Seen the Color of Ellis' Hair?"
"Hip! Hip!! Hurrah for Humboldt!"
"We Welcome the Washoe Workers."
Hurrah for Storey silver men.
Three cheers for loyal men of Lyon.

There were pictures of Weaver, Field, Stewart and Newlands; also one of the "frog eaters," which drew cheers from the French hotel, and a lot of good hits at the local candidates.

The town was a blaze of bonfires from the depot to Olcovich's, and citizens let their lights shine all along the line of march in the shape of burning barrels and boxes.

There was nearly a hundred torches in the line and Main street looked like a river of fire.

AT STEWART'S.

The immense crowd paused in front of Stewart's House and stretched the line to Jones' residence, and Stewart, Newlands and Jones were taken in a carriage to the Opera House.

George Nixon, Senator LaGrave, Senator Sharon and members of the Ormsby County Silver Central Committee were taken to the Opera House in a four-in-hand.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

The audience that packed the Opera House filled it clear to the beautifully decorated stage, which was resplendent in beautiful colors, fine furniture, lamps, rugs, flowers, pictures, and bric a brac, contributed by the free coinage ladies of Ormsby.

The streamers, Chinese lanterns and box decorations were done by Mrs. James Meder.

A great American eagle, draped in the national colors, with outstretched wings, holding a silver dollar in his beak, was placed in front of the speakers' table.

When Senator Stewart and Congressman-elect Nawlands were introduced, there was a roar of applause that was deafening.

They spoke amid continued interuptions of cheers.

Senator Stewart was the first speaker. The Senator was at his best and in his happiest mood. He advised every friend of silver to stand firm and press on to further victory four years hence. The Silver party was in the fight to stay, and State reforms must be attended to by the new party as well as the questions of National importance. He was interrupted every few minutes by the wildest cheering, and when he closed the entire audience broke out with wild applause.

Mr. Newlands was then introduced and made an interesting address, of which the following is a synopsis:

NOTES OF HIS SPEECH.

This magnificent demonstration shows that the Silver party has come to stay until the free coinage of silver crowns its banners with victory. [Applause,] We are here to congratulate each other that the people of this State, disregarding party ties and affiliations, have expressed themselves almost unanimous in favor of an independent course upon the silver question. [Applause.] We are here to congratulate each other that the recognized champion of silver is to be restored to his position in the Senate; that his independent course there in the interest of this State has met with the cordial indorsement of the people, and that he is charged by his commission to pursue there an independent course and to continue a relentless fight for our rights.

The National result need give us no cause for discouragement. The recent election has demonstrated the strength of the third party movement. It has carried five or six States aggregating over thirty electoral votes. Had it not been for fear of the Force till many Southern States would have been carried by it. As it is, had not the Democratic party unexpectedly carried Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, and California, the third party electors would have had the balance of power in the Electoral College and would have named the next President and secured the free coinage of silver. [Applause.]

The election demonstrates the power of discontent. The Republican party, originally the party of devotion to human rights, of opposition to human slavery, and of loyalty to the Union and the Constitution, had drifted into an organization whose main purpose seemed to be to protect Eastern manufacturers and Eastern money gained by a tariff generously supported by the West. It forgot that the Western end of the party was composed of the producing and debtor classes. It thought that the memories of the war and sentimental considerations would hold the Western States loyal to the Republican organization; it neglected Western interests; it was in favor of closing our silver mines and stopping the manufacture of money, with a view to increasing the value of the accumulated stock of money in the East. The demonetization of silver and the stringency of the money market has caused falling prices of all the products of the Southern and Western States; no party can win on a falling market. The suffering and discontented will always hold the Government responsible and will make a change even though it may result in worse conditions. The change has come. [Applause.]

The Democratic party is now strongly intrenched in power. Should falling prices continue, it will be swept away four years hence by the third party movement. The tariff is exaggerated. Though defective in many particulars, it has, in the main, been beneficial to the country.

The real cause of the trouble, suffering and bankruptcy, which has produced the prevailing discontent is the smallness of the money volume; our failure to utilize the silver in our mines, and to grant it equal privileges with gold; [Applause] our failure to manufacture domestic money instead of borrowing foreign money.

The domestic party has the opportunity of its life. It was swept out of power four years ago because it surrendered the framing of its tariff legislation to Texas and its financial legislation to New York. It now has the opportunity, by broad and catholic legislation, to become the party of the people and do away with the Third party movement by making it unnecessary. The tariff should be revised in so far as it has created trusts and monopolies; it should be radically attacted or disaster will follow. No tariff revision, however, will restore prices; that alone can be done by wise monetary legislation, the first step in which will be the free coinage of silver. [Applause]. Our cotton planters and wheat growers are suffering from the competition of India, whose cotton and wheat purchased by silver at its true old purchasing power, fix the prices of these products in Liverpool market and thus determine the world's prices. Advance the prices of cotton and wheat in terms of gold. The value of silver can only be increased by restoring its monetary use [applause], the only legitimate use which it has and without which it will continue to decline.

The two old parties ignored the monetary question and fought out the canvass on the tariff issue. The suffering and discontented declared for a change and the Democratic party; four years hence the sole issue will be the monetary question unless in the meantime it is settled. Should the Democratic party establish itself as the protector of the Wall street monopoly of money it will become as obnoxious as the Republican party for its alleged protection, through the tariff, of trusts and monopolies. [applause.] The party which will oppose it will not probably be the Republican party, for its main strength is in the Eastern states, which the money owning and money lending classes control and they will prevent the concession to western views and interests, which alone can restore the western states to its ranks. Its opponent will be the third party, composed of the Southern and Western states, reaching from Florida to the State of Washington. Fear of the Force bill will then be removed and the South can put its action in line with its interest. [applause]. The alliance between New York and the South in the last contest was an unnatural one. The South is in favor of free coinage but fearing the Force bill and anxious to obtain party success, made an alliance with New York by which that State secured a President, with a power equal in legislation to two-thirds of the Senate, and two-thirds of the House of Representatives. If that power is used during the coming administration as it was during the last Cleveland administration, in suppressing all silver legislation, there can be no doubt of the result four years hence. [applause.]

Judged by the previous Administration of Cleveland and Harrison, the difference between the two Presidential candidates was that Cleveland was hostile to silver because he wanted to be and Harrison was hostile to silver because he must be. Harrison was willing to go as far as as his party would go, Cleveland was unwilling to go as far as his party would go and absolutely dominated with his iron will the legislative expression of that party. It remains to be seen whether Cleveland will yield to the sentiment of his party and of the country. There are indications in his public utterances of a modification of his views, both with reference to the tariff and of the money question, and it is hoped that the monetary reforms so essential to the property of the country will be postponed four years. It behooves, however, all the friends of the monetary reform to maintain the organization of the third party movement and to hold it ready for a vigorous attack on the Democratic party should it fail to respond to their expectations. [Applause.]

The Silver party of Nevada, whose overwhelming victory we now celebrate, should hold the organization intact, its forces undimished, until free coinage restores our predominent industry, open our mines and start our State anew on the road to prosperity. To falter now would be to risk the loss of all we have gained. This agitation must not lose the momentum acquired, but must move on with resistless energy. [Applause.]

Mr. Newlands closed by referring to the fortunate position of Senator Stewart in the Senate. It was probably that he in connection with two or three independent Senators would have the balance of power to grant or to deny. It would afford Senator Stewart a grand opportunity for his powers of organization. Mr. Newlands wished that he held a similar position in the House. Is he had he would assure Nevada that there would be music in the air. As yet it would be impossible for him to outline his action. He could only say that his action would be flexible and would be mended by circumstances, but he would always have his eye fixed upon the advancement and prosperity of Nevada.

Surveyor General Jones, Senator LaGrave, Hon. George Nixon, editor of the Winnemucca Silver State, Senator Sharon, Hon. Wm. Thompson, Senator Westerfield and the editor of the Appeal, also made short speeches, all of which were liberally applauded by the audience.

THE MUSIC.

The Comstock Glee Club gave several selections and the reception they got from the audience was simply terrific. People howled themselves hoarse in applauding.

Bob Davis gave a ghost dance solo to the tune of "Oh, what a difference in the morning," and was uproariously encored. It was as follows:

On November the eight the town is alive,
At night, at night,
The old party bosses had struck a beehive,
That night, that night.
The silver men gathered in knots on the street,
The Australian ballot was working quite neat;
We cleaned the gang up with both hands and two feet
That night, that night.

CHORUS:

We packed the Silver ticket in the morning,
For we gave the old gang timely warning,
And the gang heard something drop
When the people got on top
To see a new Administration dawning.

You see by the faces you see on the street
To-night, to-night,
That some are dissatisfied with their defeat
At night, at night,
But if candidates ran with that kind of a crew
They surely got hurt with the fragments that flew
From the dynamite bomb-shells the silver men threw
That night, that night,

CHORUS:

We carried the ticket in spite of the gang,
At night, at night,
And if you'll permit me to utilize slang
To-night, to-night,
I'll tell you the reason they're silent and droop,
The silver men yelled till they all got the croup,
But the old party bosses are sunk in the soup,
Out of sight, out of sight.

CHORUS.

The crowd kept the enthusiasm up until a late hour and left with three rousing cheers for Ormsby county. All in all it was the grandest affair of the kind ever witnessed in Ormsby.

FIRE! FIRE!!

A Blaze Sunday Evening Destroys $16,000 Worth of Property.

About 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening smoke was seen issuing from Mrs. H Beaglehole's millinery store and before an alarm of fire could be given the whole building was wrapped in flames. As soon as possible after the discovery of the fire the bells were rung and locomotive whistles blew and people flocked to the scene of destruction. The fire department was several minutes in reaching the fire and even then their services were of little avail as there was but a very low pressure of water on. The flames quickly spread to the adjoining buildings and for a time it was feared the whole eastern portion as well as the buildings on the west side of Virginia street were in danger. A messenger was hurriedly sent up to the reservoirs with instructions to turn the full force of water down the mains, and in a short time there were good streams of water playing on the flames. The heat was so intense that the buildings on the opposite side of the street began blazing, but a bucket brigade, with the assistance of one hose stream, prevented any serious damage. As might be imagined the excitement was intense and the sidewalks were crowded with men, women and children.

The firemen after they got started did good work and held the flames in check within the square bounded by the Powning and Martin buildings.

Little was saved from the burning buildings, as the fire spread with a flash. The following are the losers with the amounts of their insurances:

H L. Wright, $2,500, insurance $1,450; Mrs. H. Beaglehole, millinery goods and furniture, $4,000, insurance $2,400; Peter Latona, G. P. Saloon and lodging house, $2,500, insurance $1,400; G. Pedricini, furniture, liquors, etc., $1,000, insurance $700; L. H. Taylor, Star barber shop, $200, insurance $75; A. Shannon, Reno restaurant, $1,500, insurance $800; Mr. Pringle, Reno restaurant, furniture, stock, etc., $1,000, no insurance; Daniel Lane, shoemaker shop, $500, insurance $300; C S. Martin's building, $300, insurance $150; Mr. Peck, Wright's grocery store, $1,500, insurance $800. Powning's building was considerably damaged by fire and water.

The heat cracked the large plate glass in the windows of the Palace Dry Goods Store and also in the store of F. Levy & Bro. across the street and did considerable damage to the paint upon the other buildings in the neighborhood. The front of Matt Parrott's building suffered a severe scorching, and the porch of C. S. Martin's new building was considerably damaged.

Fortunately there was but the slightest wind, else it would be impossible to forsee the result. The flames could be seen for miles around and a number of farmers who thought the whole town was afire hitched their teams and drove to town. Within half an hour after the fire started there was barely a vestige of a building left.

As is customary on almost every occasion of the kind people are always ready and willing to censure the fire department, but while they were not on hand before the alarm sounded Sunday evening they did most efficient work when they had sufficient water with which to fight the flames.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but speculation is rife as to its cause. The scene of the fire yesterday presentes a dark and desolate appearance.

Mother at Prayer.

Once, says a writer, I suddenly opened the door of my mother's room and saw her on her knees beside her chair and heard her speak my name in prayer. I quickly and quietly withdrew with a feeling of awe and reverence in my heart. Soon I went away from home to school, then to college, then into life's sterner duties. But I never forgot that one glimpse of my mother at prayer, nor the one word—my own name—which I heard her utter. Well did I know that what I had seen that day was but a glimpse of what was going on every day in that sacred closet of prayer, and the consciousness strengthened me a thousand times in duty, in danger and in struggle. When death came at last and sealed those lips the sorest sense of loss I felt was the knowledge that no more would my mother be praying for me.

Burning Glasses in Store Windows.

A chemical journal warns pharmacists and all others who have occasion to display anything in the nature of a lens in their windows that, as the season changes, the sun's rays may fall directly into windows which they did not reach during the preceding season, and therefore it would be well to bear in mind the possibility of fire being kindled through this agency and take precautions accordingly. That the show globes in a druggist's window are capable of acting as "burning glasses" is proved by one case in which the woodwork of a window was effectually charred by the sunlight concentrated on it through a globular show bottle.

Rapid Transit in Berlin.

Thirty miles of underground electric railway similar to the City and South London line has been proposed for Berlin at an estimated expense of $10,000,000. The plans describe two central power stations, supplying current at 500 volts to forty-eight trains, each with its own locomotive, carrying in all 144 carriages at one time. It is proposed to run these trains at three minute intervals, a little over half a mile apart, and at a fare of 2½ cents it is estimated that the traffic will be about five persons per car mile.

One Woman's Way.

I overheard this conversation between two well dressed ladies on an elevated train yesterday:

"Yes, I have been away all summer—up in the country."

"Did you close your house?"

"No, I let a young couple in."

"Anybody I know?"

"No, they were strangers in the city—young people from Vermont."

Pause.

"I shouldn't think you would like to have anybody in your house during your absence."

"Well, I'll tell you." She lowered her voice. "You see, the house was full of—of—of those dreadful insects—those, you know—and the young woman looked as neat as a pin."

Giggles.

"Did she get them out?"

"I haven't seen one since I got back."—New York Herald.

There's a good deal of guarantee business in the store keeping of to day. It's too excessive. Or too reluctant. Half the time it means nothing. Words—only words.

This offer to refund the money, or to pay a reward, is made under the hope that you won't want your money back, and that you won't claim the reward. Of course.

So, whoever is honest in making it, and works—not on his reputation alone, but through the local dealer, whom you know, must have something he has faith in back of the guarantee. The business wouldn't stand a year without it.

What is lacking is confidence. Back of that, what is lacking is that clear honesty which is above the "average practice."

Dr. Pierce's medicines are guaranteed to accomplish what they are intended to do, and the makers give the money back if the result isn't apparent.

Doesn't it strike you that a medicine, which the makers have so much confidence in, is the medicine for you?

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE of Nevada, in and for Washoe county—The State of Nevada sends to Mary E Voss greeting: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by Frost Voss as plaintiff in the District Court of the State Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe, and answer the complaint the ein within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said District, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The action is brought to recover the judgment and decree of this court dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between plaintiff and defendant upon the ground of habitual gross drunkenness, contracted since the marriage of plaintiff and defendant, which incapacitates defendant from contributing her share to the support of the family; and also for the care, custody and control of the minor children of the parties to said action, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said court at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded.

{SEAL.} In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said court at Reno, this 19th day of October, A D, 1892. O. H. PERRY,

"German Syrup"

Here is an incident from the South—Mississippi, written in April, 1890, just after the Grippe had visited that country. "I am a farmer, one of those who have to rise early and work late. At the beginning of last Winter I was on a trip to the City of Vicksburg, Miss., where I got well drenched in a shower of rain. I went home and was soon after seized with a dry, hacking cough. This grew worse every day, until I had to seek relief. I consulted Dr. Dixon who has since died, and he told me to get a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. Meantime my cough grew worse and worse and then the Grippe came along and I caught that also very severely. My condition then compelled me to do something. I got two bottles of German Syrup. I began using them, and before taking much of the second bottle, I was entirely clear of the Cough that had hung to me so long, the Grippe, and all its bad effects. I felt tip-top and have felt that way ever since." PETER J. BRIALS, Jr., Cayuga, Hines Co., Miss.

ALIAS SUMMONS.

IN the Justice Court of Reno Township, in and for the County of Washoe, State of Nevada—The State of Nevada sends greeting to R B Sinclair.

To Dissolve Bones.

Although bones can be reduced to plant food by an easy and simple process, and when done make one of the most valuable of all fertilizers, yet of all matter on the farm none is more neglected. Bones whole are not available food for plants; therefore the farmer takes no interest in them as a means of plant food and they are suffered to lie about the farm unnoticed. I have practiced dissolving bones in ashes for many years. I collect all the bones, large and small, all beef and hog bones, at killing time.

When winter comes and I am burning good wood I put in a box or barrel a layer of ashes some two or three inches deep, then a layer of bones (you can break them with an ax if you wish—I never do), and then another of ashes and then of bones until the vessel is nearly full, then fill with ashes. I now keep this wet with water, being careful not to put enough to leak through. I use soapsuds as much as I can, as it is better. I am careful not to let this mass freeze, as the process will stop while frozen. I also save through the winter a hopper of strong ashes in the same way it is done for making soap.

When spring comes, if the bones are not dissolved sufficiently, I put the bones and ashes in a large kettle and then pour on lye leach from this hopper of ashes and boil them until they are eaten up. When done mix it with dry earth to make it better to handle. Put away in barrels until wanted. I have thus made a fertilizer that gave better results than commercial fertilizers for which I paid three dollars per hundred pounds. To dissolve bones in sulphuric acid is much the speediest process, but with this great care and caution must be observed, as the acid is very corrosive.—Cor. Husbandman.

Microbes from Old Graves.

It is asserted that the efforts to abolish infectious diseases, such as scarlet fever and diphtheria, are frustrated by the burial of infected bodies, for though the microbes themselves may die their spores, or seeds, have very great vitality.

Pasteur's researches have proved that earthworms bring up to the surface microbes from the bodies of infected animals buried several feet deep. Darwin showed in one case that in fifteen years they had accumulated worm mold over three inches in depth, and in another case during eighty years had accumulated an average depth of more than a foot.

In a field in the Jura, where a diseased cow had been buried at a depth of nearly seven feet, Pasteur found that the mold which he collected two years later contained germs which on being inoculated into a guinea pig produced death from the same disorder of which the cow died.

In a Yorkshire village part of a disused graveyard was taken into the rectory garden adjoining. On the earth being dug over scarlet fever broke out in the rectory nursery and thence spread over the village. It proved to be of the same type as that from which, thirty years before, the victims died who were buried in that particular part of the churchyard.

On the opening of a smallpox burying ground in Quebec, 150 years old, smallpox immediately broke out among the workmen.—Youth's Companion.
